There are but a handful of horse shows in this country offering the history and atmosphere that have made the Warrenton Horse Show a national treasure. For 108 years this event has been a showcase for breeding programs, equine athletes, and the legends of our beloved sport, and it celebrates the long history of the equine industry in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Not only is the Warrenton Horse Show Association the oldest continuously operating corporation in Virginia, but the event has always enjoyed the support of the entire Northern Virginia community as well as that of competitors, breeders, and equine enthusiasts from across the nation.

The USEF applauds The Warrenton Horse Show Association for its extraordinary commitment to maintaining such high standards of quality for well over a century, and for the charm that makes it so unique. We thank all of the individuals and volunteers who make this historic show possible.

Best regards,

David J. O'Connor
